

Nonnie Moore's Artistry of Color and Perception

The Toni Collection

Nonnie Moore

Association with the fashion world has evoked a richness of color in the artist's palette and imbued Nonnie with a sense for texture. Like rustling swathes of fabric her brush strokes work to create compositions that swirl with grace and energy reflecting her own zest for life. As a maestro's magic with a musical score, Nonnie harnesses the energy, passion, and intensity of the individual elements to capture the motion of the moment within her compositions. The eye leads the mind in through a parade of the senses whether it be a walk along the seashore in the Hamptons or a show filled with flash lights in New York.

Born in New York City. Graduate of Barnard College.
Studied painting with Leo Manso, and with Frank O'Cain,
Larry Poons, and Knox Martin at The Art Student League.
Widely heralded in international fashion circles. Former Fashion Editor of Harper's Bazaar, Mademoiselle, and Fashion Director of GQ.
